Tips for pronouncing Spanish

The good news about Spanish pronunciation is that it obeys clear phonetic rules, although people do speak with different accents, depending on their region and background.

Vowels

Each of the five vowels has its own clear sharp sound:

- a as in hat
- e as in pet
- i as in feet
- o as in clock
- u as in drew c's and z's

c + e = th	cero, once
c + i = th	cinco, gracias
z + a, o, u = th	zapato, corazón, azul
c + a = ka	casa, catorce
c + o = ko	cómo, color
c + u = ku	Cuba, cubano

j's and g's

J, as in 'jardines', is a harder, stronger version of the English 'h'. G, when followed by e and i, sounds exactly the same as j. Otherwise, it is pronounced as the English 'g' in go.

ll's

The double ll, as in 'calle', is another characteristic Spanish sound. In most parts of Spain it's like the 'lli' in the English million.

h's

The h is silent in Spanish, so you won't be blowing any candles out when you pronounce words that begin with this letter. Best to imagine it's not there and pronounce the second letter in the word.

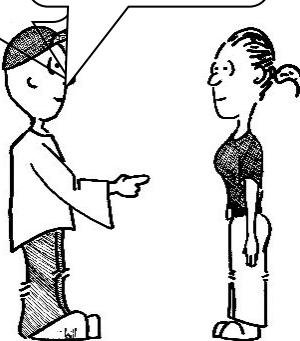

hablo, helado, ¡hola!, huevo

Regular present tense verbs

To talk about actions in the present, you need to change the infinitive verb by taking off the last 2 letters (either –AR, -ER, or –IR) and adding different endings.

The endings tell you who is doing the action of the verb.
E.g. hablo = I speak, bailan = they dance.

In Spanish you usually leave out the subject pronoun (I, you, he, she...) because the endings show which person is referred to.

Look at the table below to see which endings you need to add to the regular –AR, -ER and –IR verbs to make the present tense.

NB: Use the tú and vosotros forms of 'you' when talking to friends, relations or children. Use the Usted and Ustedes forms when talking to an adult who you would not call by their first name.

Regular present tense verbs

	(AR) hablar – to speak	(ER) aprender – to learn	(IR) vivir – to live
yo (I)	hablo	aprendo	vivo

The preterite – regular verbs

We use the preterite to describe events and actions in the past that are finished.

The preterite is formed by adding the following endings to the stem of the verb. (NB: stem = infinitive minus –AR, -ER or –IR ending)

ER & IR have the same endings!

Regular preterite tense verbs
	(AR) comprar – to buy	(ER) comer – to eat	(IR) vivir – to live
yo (I)	compré	comí	viví

NB: empezar changes spelling in 'yo' form → empécé
jugar too becomes → jugué in 'yo' form

The imperfect tense

The imperfect is used to describe things we did regularly in the past and where we do not know the beginning and end of the action. It also sets the scene in a narrative, describing places, objects, people, time and the weather in the past.

The imperfect is formed by removing the infinitive endings (-AR, -ER, -IR) and adding the following endings:

ER & IR have the same endings!

Regular imperfect tense endings

	(AR) comprar – to buy	(ER) comer – to eat	(IR) vivir – to live
yo (I)	compraba	comía	vivía
tú (you, 1 pers fam)	comprabas	comías	vivías
él/ella (he, she)	compraba	comía	vivía

Most verbs are regular (SER and IR are not).

Ustedes (you, pl, formal)	eran	iban	hacían	estaban

GUSTAR and expressing likes and dislikes

Gustar really means ‘to be pleasing to’. Use ‘gusta’ with singular nouns and ‘gustan’ with plural nouns. You need to use the correct indirect pronoun too to show who likes what.

Expressing likes and dislikes – 3 impersonal verbs

	GUSTAR – to like	ENCANTAR – to love	INTERESAR – to interest me (to me)	gusta(n)	encanta(n)	interesa(n)
te (to you) le (to him/her) le (to you – formal, 1 pers) nos (to us)
os (to you – fam.pl)
les (to them)
les (to you – formal, pl)

There are other verbs that work in this way too. The most important ones are:

encantar	to love
interesar	to interest
chiflar	to adore/love
hacer falta	to need
doler (o → ue)	to hurt

Verbs plus infinitives: useful structures

1. Use ‘gustar’ (or other similar verbs) followed by an infinitive to express the meaning ‘to like doing something’

ejemplo: Me gusta mucho montar a caballo

I like horse-riding a lot.

2. Use ‘soler’ followed by an infinitive to express the meaning ‘to usually do something’

	SOLER (radical-changing verb) yo (I)	suelo	beber agua mineral
tú (you, 1 pers fam)	sueles	tomar el desayuno a las siete
él/ella (he, she)	suele	comer muchas legumbres
Usted (you, 1 pers, formal)	suele	cenar a las ocho
nosotros (we)	solemos	comer muchos pasteles
vosotros (you, pl, fam)	soléis
ellos/ellas (they)	suelen
Ustedes (you, pl, formal)	suelen

3. Use ‘se puede’ followed by an infinitive to express the meaning ‘you/one can do something’

ejemplo: En Cambridge se puede hacer ‘punting’

You(one) can do/go punting in Cambridge

4. Use any of the verbs below followed by an infinitive to give advice to someone.

hay que..	you (one) must...	se tiene que...	you (one) must....
se debe...	you (one) should..	se recomienda	it is recommended..

Negatives

1. Put 'no' before the verb to make a negative sentence.

No vivo en Dublin.

I don't live in Dublin.

2. Put 'nada' after the verb (with 'no' in front) to express the meaning 'don't ...at all, anything, nothing'

No me gusta nada el tenis.

I don't like tennis at all.

No sé nada del fútbol.

I don't know anything about football.

3. Put 'nunca' after the verb (with 'no' in front) to express the meaning 'never'

No hago nunca mis deberes.

I never do my homework.

4. Put 'nadie' after the verb (with 'no' in front) to express the meaning 'no-one or not anyone'

No conozco a nadie.

I don't know anyone/I know nobody..

NB: You can also put the negative expression before the verb for emphasis - in this case don't use the 'no'. For example:

Nunca hago deporte – I never do sport

Nadie me habla – Nobody talks to me

Rules about adjectives

An adjective is always describing something, and that word is a noun. In Spanish you have to look at the noun's gender and number and then decide whether the adjective you are using needs to change.

Agreement

The adjective should have the same number and gender as the noun it describes. Sometimes the adjective does not have to change. The two rules for deciding are as follows:

if the adjective ends in –o then the o must change to a if the noun it describes is feminine;

if the adjective ends in any other letter do not change it — except:

if the adjective describes the nationality or regional origin of the noun, then it must be made feminine if the noun it describes is feminine;

if the noun is plural, the adjective should be made plural too.

For example:

	singular		plural
	masculine	feminine	masculine	feminine short	bajo	baja	bajos	bajas
blue	azul	azul	azules	azules
English	inglés	inglesa	ingleses	inglesas

Position

In sentences where the noun and the adjective come next to each other, in Spanish it is usually the noun which comes first.

In English it is the other way round. For example:

We have a blue car

Tenemos un coche azul

A big garden

Un jardín grande

The tall girls

Las chicas altas

Some difficult lessons

Unas clases difíciles

There are very few cases where the word order is the same as in English. We will learn about those in year 9!

Your vocabulary

Year 8 Spanish cover

As you are probably aware learning a language demands that you have a good command of a wide range of vocabulary so exposing yourself to and learning lots of vocabulary is key to success. If your teacher is absent, don't consider this to be a waste of a lesson. The activities which have been selected for you below will help to increase your vocabulary. But don't be lazy if you don't understand something, just grab a dictionary. Make sure you make a list of all the new language you learn and start to embed it deeply in your memory.

The following exercises are all from Mira (the Spanish textbooks). You must aim to be onto the extension work in every lesson. Any problems, go to Mrs Shorten's office in the first instance.

Lesson 1: Task 1. p61: Copy the orange table from page 61 to remind yourself of present tense –ir verbs. Task 2. p 61, ex 6 read the 2 texts and then decide which person each statement refers to (Conchita or Roberto). Task 3. Choose one of the texts from the previous activity to translate into good English. Extension: Write a paragraph about yourself. Use the text from exercise 6 to help you.

Lesson 2: Task 1. p 64: Using the vocab to help, draw the plan of your house and label the rooms in Spanish. Lesson 3: Task 1. p 66, ex 1: Copy the vocab down (a-m) and translate it into English Task 2. p67, ex 4: Copy the 8 sentences down and translate them into English, using the picture to help you understand. Task 3: p 67: Copy the orange info box. Task 4. p 67 ex 5: Read the text and write down the items that are missing in the picture but are mentioned in the text. Extension. p 67, ex 6: Describe your bedroom. You can use the text from exercise 5 to help you.

Lesson 4: Task 1. Copy the orange info box on page 68 to remind you about stem-changing verbs. Task 2. Pg 68, ex 1: Write down the activities (a-j) and translate them into English.
